

Casual clothes a great fit

ACROSS the Hunter today businesses and schools will boycott uniforms for Hunter Life Education's Dress Down Drug Free.

The annual event encourages students to participate in a mufti day while businesses can choose to dress down or dress up in a theme.

Dress Down Drug Free raises money for Hunter Life Education to help prevent drug misuse and binge drinking among young people in Newcastle and the Hunter.

Businesses who raise the most funds will win a Total Performance Concepts coaching session, while businesses with the craziest fancy dress theme will win a morning on radio station NXFM's Brekkie Bench.

The school that raises the most funds will win $500 to go towards their Student Representative Council.

A Dress Down Drug Free community barbecue will be held at the Sparke Helmore Building, Honeysuckle Drive, from noon until 2pm.

- Naomi Davidson

DRESS DOWN: From left to right, Mike Rabbit, Brett Derwin and Brad Wilson take on Healthy Harold. - Picture by Peter Stoop