Hunter Life message

LIFE Education Australia is a non-profit organisation that works with schools and the community to help reduce tobacco, illegal drug and alcohol use; and reduce the harms associated with drugs.

It has programs for preschool, primary and secondary schools aimed at empowering children and young adults to respect themselves and others.

The primary school program started in 1979, and now 120 educators use Life Education's national network of more than 90 mobile and static classrooms.

Life Education delivers its message to more than 750,000 students each year.
