

Get your swimmers on for Laps4Life

THE challenge has been issued to local businesses to enter this year's Muswellbrook Laps4Life charity swim relay event in support of Hunter Life Education.

Executive Officer David Baker says that local businesses are invited to make a contribution to the vital work of drug education in the Upper Hunter by registering a team of four swimmers.

"You don't have to be an olympic swimmer to enter as it is a handicap event," Mr Baker said.

"Business support is vital in achieving our mission to educate children and families to make smart life choices for a healthy future, free from the harmful effects of drugs.

"Without this support we simply cannot achieve our goals. This is an annual event which raises much needed funds to keep our work going."

Hunter Life Education is still looking for teams to enter the event, which will be held this Friday, November 6, from 6pm at the indoor swimming pool at the White Memorial Leisure Centre.

To register your team, phone 1300 554 246 or download the registration forms from www.hunterlifeeducation.org.au

All funds raised go towards supporting drug and healthy lifestyle education programs in Hunter schools.

Life Education is the largest non-government provider of drug and health education throughout Australia reaching approximately 750,000 primary and secondary students each year.
